SHERMAN'S GOOD SENSE

Whenever Sherman talks in public there is no almiess ambignity about his language, nor any quavering note in his voice when he talks about the war to an andisance of veterans. He calls it a wicked, canseless contest on the part of the a wicked, causeless contest on the part of the leaders of the secession conspiracy, or, as he said Wednesday in San Francisco, "one of the worst of wars." When Sherman tells the (A. B. that "every member should become a teacher to instill in the hearts of your children the principles for which you tought," he speaks a timely word, for some good Union soldiers occasionally try to wesh the blood spots out of our hanne. with the soap of sentimentation. Sentimental ism never saves a state it is belief in the im-mutable timeliness if oternal justice that does and a handful of flowers won a seak up a river of blood. Because Lee, Davis and Toombs escaped, through was clemency, the gallows, h fecked by Union soldiers To die for error i manly but to die for truth is more than manliness it is manhood matrict, with clear more for error. For the Southern soldier, who is a a good citizen to-day, in sickness or in health in source or in mirth, the Union soldier shoul loor, but for the sdea for which they so herole ally fought the Union veteran should ever be as ernel and inhospitable as that vast grave their loyal grave. No honest thoughtful Union schuler can honestly couple a Confederate and a Union grave as equally worthy of honor and worship Rev Phillips Brooks once said on this

I stand with as much reverence as any by the upon our creed that that which the men lu our war died for is the everlasting necessity of our nation

It is not human nature for an honest Confed It is not human nature for an honest Confederate to decorate a Union grave it is not honest human nature for a Union soldier to decorate a fundedrate grave. The red coats, who charged Prescuts line at Bunker Hill were brave fellows, and were of our English blood, but what are the ignaves to late that It was a brave fight on both sides, but his lies were not right and the just control of the co and the twist common sen a that arbitrament of the sport, as I cand Longstreet did, by worth a has hard and considered sent throught sent through the selection of the sel do to have men not to the finer at The Couled a to the to

The late Charles Sommer was sen in and ruber that states manife when he gravely urged that we omit to mark the great historic batt o ields with becoming monuments. This sickly soutiment was akin to his stupid speech that the most cuching incident on either side of all the his-tory of the war, full as it was of her to sarri-fice, made with blood and tears, was the spec-raciant for Darker history. tacle of Gen. Banks, during his retreat, lifting a liftle feature registre negre grit to a place of rest on one of his flying cannot. This refusal to favor any public recognit on of our greet war for the Union was absurd, for pushed to its log iral conclusion, the cumper sentimentalism would grind Plymouth Rock to powder and sow the sea with its dust, would level Bunner Hill monument and thing it in Hoston harbor, lest the sight of it should make some bag ishman sulk meer, or scold when he visits America. Bod Butler is another statesman who saw no reason why a Confederate soldier should not be pensioned. The premium on the rebellion is al ready sufficiently high.

It has been settled for the future that in the United States a number of men may incite, organize and wage war against the government for several years at enormous cost of blood and treasure to the nation with entire impurity, so far as loss of life, liberty or property is concerned. The government hung nobody for eason, it exiled nobody; unpriso it permanently deprived nobody of suffrage of civil rights, it confiscated no estates after the war We do not say the government was not entirely wise in this hierality, but the state might as well add croquet grounds and skating rinks to the remitabiliaries as to execute Be a of a federal soldiers' home for exes It certainly would super the fully if the rebels understood that in case of failure there would still be a light in the win dow and a warm supper waiting at Unc e Sam s headquariers for the poor, dear Confederate produgal the moment he surrendered. Let no hereafter say that the rebellion was not a dear heroes, know each other hereafter have but one purse and house between you bless you, my bors, bless you the United States is proud of you both, of her limon soldier, as an undoubted success of her Confederate child as a magnificent failure, you are both good boys and Lucie Sam feels bound to take care of you and determination to firing my house in severa place. while the other, with at least equal herousin exerted himself successfully to extin golds the flames" (see Sherman, however something more formulable than a maud was something more formulable than a manu-lin philanthropist or demagogue on the field of battle, and he refuses to wear that sort of badge to the control of the control in time of neace (sen Sharman wouldn't her share, wouldn't burn up every relic of the days of "arms blue," wouldn't upheave every Union soldler's monument, won dn't blot Lin coln's Gettyshurg speech from the history of the country, as Appleton once did from his schoo readers, nor would be pitch old John Sedgwick's statue over the cliffs at West Point into the

at Washing on by a correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, he is causing the repor thereof to be reprinted in the ring organs of Oregon, perosal of which (we print it in an other place) will show that he regards the reelection in Oregon as a vindication of him self That s to say, the people of Oregon elected Mr Fennoyer as a means of supporting Mr. J. Hipple Mitchell on the Chinese question If this "intervew" did not exhibit the of frontery of the man and his characteristic methods of targiversation its genuineness migh be suspected but since it exhibits both, it is undoubtedly genuine We had the other day through the chairman of the democratic stat-central committee, an authoritative denial of a certain statement from Washington by telegraph, which statement this "special" to the hazarded when it is asserted that Mitchell has received no letter from Pennover containing what this Indianapolis "special" alleges.
The contents of the "special" are in Mit chells own peculiar vein throughout Mr Pennoyer was not chairman of a mass out-doo anti Chinese meeting held "some years ago" be made no speech at such—never, indeed, was present at such meeting. We have it from the best authorit; that he new altrins that the prin cipal statements in the "special" to the Indian apolis paper as to the substance of the letter written by him to Witchell are erroneous, and he maste that his anti-minopoly position was as potect an -isment of his strength in the late contest as was he anti Chinese position Since Mitchell, in this 'Interview," chooses to the election of Pennoyer, it is worth while to ask why he did not give Pennoyer his support⁵ Cornelius was his candidate—by Mitchell's order Cornelius was non fuated, and in letters to Ore gon Mitchell predicted Pannoyers deteat by 5000 Yet by saying that Pennoyer was electe solely because of his attitude on the Chines orderion, which attitude was exactly in accord with his dwn on the same subject, Mitchell wants to take to himself the credit of a victory over the man whom he himself selected for go ernori whose nomination he brought about, and whose electron he enthusiastically predicted. heedless to say this is highly characteristic.

which produced Mr Pennover's large majority was the vote of the anti-Chinese and labor or ganizations But a still more potent factor was the vote that was cast under a resolve to rebuke Mitchell and Mitchellism This was shown in a most signal manner by the result on other parts of the ticket. One of Mitchell's remarks in elected because they were democrats." They were, in fac., elected mainly as a rebuke to Mitchell and Mitchelliam,—with the exception of the charman of the republican state central committee

P. Cogdill, arrested two days ago for various crimes, including the burglarizing of John Farrow's house near Hunter's Point, has been indicted by the grand jury for Bleading a borse from Goddard & Frazer, the livery suble keepors. Yesterday in Judge Stearns's court Cogdill pleaded quilty to the theft of the horse, and will be seen tened to-day.

Meson to hall has high was an intellectual treat, nothing less. It dealt with evolution, in answer to largersoll's famous lecture, and was replete with logic and homor and the spleadid linagination of folly chocusace. All who heard it were pleased to the point of enthusiasm. Mr. Fitch and wife sailed at midnight for San Francisco and with return to their bome at Tacoma early next mouth.

THE STAGE.

MARKER - "Spot Cash" was present-THE NEW MARKET,—"Spot Cash" was presented last night to a good house. It is a better play taken all in all, than "Sam's of Pozen," because there is more of Samuel in it, and he is the person that the audience wants to see. As the commarcial drummer "on the road," Mr. Curtis has greater scope in fain making because he is no longer a "greeny," but is up to every trick known to that industrious, shrewd class of business men called drummers.
"Spot Cash" is snappy, full of life, has a good deal of clever dialogue, and some familiar jokes in new clothes. It served to keep the audit-nee between smiles and rours from first to last. To-alght, "Spot Cash" for the last time. This afternoon "Sam'l of
